

THE GEO-INSTITUTE OF THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS

The American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) created the Geo-Institute (G-I) in October 1996. The Geo-Institute is an organization of individual geo-professionals, organizational members, and affiliated local Chapters that are members of ASCE sections and branches, and affiliated graduate student organizations located at colleges and universities. Geo-professionals include engineers, scientists, engineering geologists, and technologists who have technical interests in soil, rock, and the fluids they contain and who have as a common goal the application of that interest to the improvement of the environment, the mitigation of natural hazards, and the economical construction of engineered facilities.

Goal: The primary goal of the Geo-Institute is to advance the geo-professional community.

Vision: The G-I's vision over the upcoming five years centers around four primary areas.

- Being a more member-centric association
- Being the primary source of career development support for geo-professionals
- Building collaboration among groups serving our profession, and
- Developing a stronger business model

Values to Maintain: The G-I recognizes that key values for the geo-profession need to be maintained including the following:

- Long-standing high-level reputation within the geo-profession
- Overall best source of information and networking for our profession
- High value publications for the membership, and
- An international, national, and local presence

Strategies: The G-I is envisioning the following key strategies over the upcoming five years to realize its vision:

- Reviewing existing membership demographic data
- Gathering feedback formally and informally from members and leaders who support our members
- Surveying our members
- Being more responsive to member feedback
- Maintaining and improving the G-I website
- Making the Geo-Congress more effective in promoting career development and serving the needs of the profession;
- Assembling the best professional development resources
- Seeking joint activities with affiliated organizations
- Formalizing alliances with regulatory agencies
- Maintaining and expanding our current alliances;
- Investigating alternative conference and subscription models

- Assessing potential for new revenues tied to the creation of new web resources
- Expanding our continuing education and publication offerings

The Geo-Institute serves as the United States of America member society of the International Society for Soil Mechanics and Geotechnical Engineering (ISSMGE).

One (1) new governor shall be elected each year. Governors appointed by the Society’s Board of Direction, shall be appointed every other year and serve a two (2) year term.

6.2.1 A Nominations and Elections Committee shall be appointed annually by the Board. The Committee shall consist of five (5) members, constituted as determined by the Board. 6.2.4 If the Committee submits only one (1) nominee for each open position and that individual receives at least eighty percent (80%) support from the Committee, the Committee’s recommendation does not require Board approval and the individual’s name shall appear on the ballot. In the event this occurs, the Board of Governors may authorize a candidate of its own, provided the individual selected meets the qualifications for a Governor, to appear on the ballot in addition to and along with the Committee-approved nominee.

6.2.5 Once the ballot is announced to the general membership in the official Geo-Institute publication or other appropriate means to include the world wide web, a petition process shall be permitted, with oversight from the Committee, to allow members to add candidates to the ballot.

6.2.6 A ballot bearing the names and brief biographical sketches of all candidates shall be submitted to the membership for their vote, and members shall have thirty (30) days to return their ballot. Write-in candidates shall not be accepted. The candidate(s) receiving the most votes shall become the Governor(s)-Elect. 6.2.7 In the event there is only one (1) candidate on the ballot for each open position after the deadline for petitions is passed, the Board shall have the authority to certify the election results without balloting the membership. The candidate(s) will then become the Governor(s)-Elect.

6.2.8 Each nominee must file a written notice with the Geo-Institute Director prior to the election stating the nominee will serve if elected.

6.3 Term of Office. The term of office of each elected Governor shall be three (3) years and the Governor may be reelected or appointed. Individuals sitting on the Board as non-voting members shall remain on the Board so long as they remain engaged in their respective capacities.

A Governor may resign at any time by giving written notice of such resignation to the Secretary of the Board.
