ASCE LEGISLATIVE FLY-IN PARTNER OPPORTUNITIES

Every spring, ASCE holds its Legislative Fly-In in Washington, D.C., an exclusive and intensive two-day event providing current and future ASCE leaders with the ability to hone their advocacy skills, network with fellow ASCE influencers, and meet with Members of Congress to discuss the key issues impacting the civil engineering profession and the nation's infrastructure.

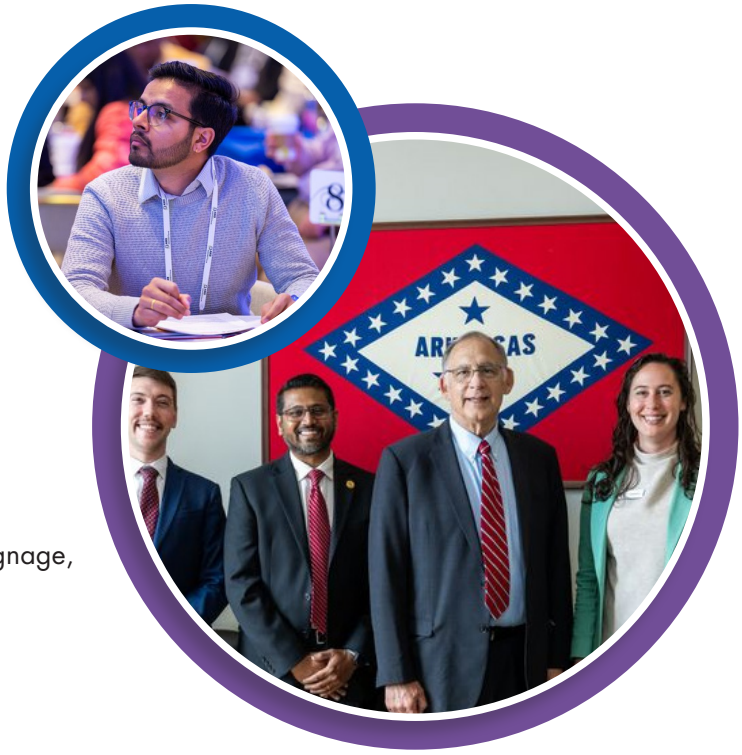

The 2026 Legislative Fly-In brought together 260 ASCE leaders, representing 47 states, D.C., and Puerto Rico, as well as all facets of the diverse civil engineering profession. Participants met with nearly 300 House and Senate offices, using their civil engineering expertise, personal stories, and background on key issues to advocate for ASCE's legislative agenda in the 119th Congress.

Prior to meeting with their Congressional delegations, attendees receive a day and a half of intensive training where they hear from media and industry leaders, as well as key Congressional figures, on topics ranging from infrastructure funding and financing, resilience, and the reauthorization of key federal infrastructure programs.

Capping off the event, ASCE's Gamechangers reception offers an opportunity for ASCE partners, industry stakeholders, Congressional staff, Fly-In attendees, and federal agency leaders to come together and celebrate the companies and projects that are driving innovation in the engineering and construction industry. The next Legislative Fly-In will be held on April 14th and 15th 2027.

ASCE's partners for the Legislative Fly-In and Gamechangers reception have a unique opportunity to meet with ASCE leaders, share their organization's key priorities, and introduce innovative technologies and projects to those driving infrastructure decisions across the country. By partnering with ASCE at the Legislative Fly-In, we look forward to collaborating on how to best showcase your organization.
